USPA NEWS - The news has just been confirmed, after the rumour said Leonardo DiCaprio and Martin Scorsese will meet soon on movie sets for the sixth time. They shall reunite to adapt the called "The Devil in the White City" from Erik Larson novel, released in 2003.

The movie is set against the backdrop of the 1893 World's Fair, and also tells the story of fair architect Daniel H. Burnham. Holmes, who works with Burnham, builds the World's Fair Hotel and uses it as a means of luring in his victims. It was a nightmarish place that had a gas chamber, crematorium, and dissecting table.

The story of "The Devil in the White City" takes place in 1893, during the organisation of the World Exhibition in Chicago, and runs parallel to the architect's destiny works manager, Daniel H. Burnham and that of HH Holmes (DiCaprio), a hotel owner suspected as a serial killer and of killing between 20 and 200 guests. Sold over two million copies, the book had been translated into seventeen languages.
